A LETTER FROM THE EFROYMSON FAMILY

Dear friends,

In 1998, Dan and Lori Efroymsen established the Efroymsen Family Fund, one of the first donor-advised funds at the Central Indiana Community Foundation (CICF). Through this fund, we wanted to continue the long legacy of charitable commitment by the Efroymsen family.

The Efroymsen family moved from Evansville, Indiana, to Indianapolis in the early 1870s. Gustave, the oldest son of Jacob and Minnie Efroymsen, became a prosperous businessman and philanthropist in our city. Later on, Gustave's two sons, Clarence, an economist and professor of economics at Butler University, and Robert, a lawyer and businessman, became respected civic leaders and philanthropists. Like their father, they were quite successful in their personal affairs and felt that it was their responsibility to help those in need, thus playing instrumental roles in the welfare of the people living in Indianapolis, Central Indiana and beyond.

From 1919 to 1999, three generations of Efroymsens—Gustave, Robert and Dan—served without interruption on The Indianapolis Foundation board of trustees. Lori Efroymsen-Aguilera served on the CICF board from 2002-2012. Since Dan's passing in 1999, Lori Efroymsen-Aguilera and their two children, Jeremy and Elissa, have continued the family's philanthropic legacy of providing financial support to charitable organizations throughout Indianapolis, the state of Indiana, across the United States and, occasionally, in other countries.

This brief history of our family leads us to the present. By the end of 2016, the cumulative giving of the Efroymsen Family Fund, in the 19 years since its establishment, has exceeded $100 million. We are pleased and proud to share the impact of the Efroymsen Family Fund with all of you.

Since 1998, the Efroymsen Family Fund has awarded almost 1,900 grants. Some of them were large, to organizations like The Nature Conservancy, "to save and protect the lands and the waters on which all life depends;" and Indiana Landmarks, "to preserve, restore and repurpose historic places... and revitalize communities;" and The Children's Museum of Indianapolis, where for many years we have helped present special exhibits, including The Power of Children, which tells the stories of Anne Frank, Ruby Bridges and Ryan White, three children who made a difference in the world.

We have also reached out to places like Haiti, a country ravaged by natural disasters, helping local artists to sell their crafts to generate income.

We helped the arts by supporting museums such as the Indianapolis Museum of Art, where we funded ARTx, an initiative to attract and engage new audiences and local artists through creative programming; and also art education for young people through grants to organizations like the Chicago High School for the Arts (ChiArts), a public 4-year college preparatory for visual and performing arts; or through the Efroymsen Contemporary Arts Fellowship Program, which has distributed $1,000,000 to 50 contemporary Midwestern visual artists.

We believe in innovation and creativity, and they have become the overarching theme that links all our grants. We are happy to hear about the successes of our grantees because their success is also our success.

We thank Joanna Nixon, our fund manager, whose creativity has helped us in our permanent quest to be more innovative, and in doing so, has helped our grantees to achieve their goals. We also want to thank Central Indiana Community Foundation and their staff for their constant support over the years.

INDIANA LANDMARKS

SAVING INDIANA'S HISTORIC BUILDINGS

The Efroymsen family is a significant advocate for preserving places and historic buildings, and both Lori Efroymsen-Aguilera and Jeremy Efroymsen have served in leadership roles at Indiana Landmarks. Historic preservation support from the Efroymsen Family Fund has impacted almost every county in Indiana. To date, more than 300 preservation projects have been supported through the fund, ranging from planning grants to the stabilization and rehabilitation of buildings, schools, homes, bridges, churches, barns and monuments. The family historically provides critical, early grant support to help catalyze additional investment and local engagement efforts. Most recently, the Efroymsen family has established an endowment at Indiana Landmarks dedicated to saving endangered places in perpetuity.

INDIANAPOLIS MUSEUM OF CONTEMPORARY ART

ELEVATING CONTEMPORARY ART IN INDIANAPOLIS

The Efroymsen family has a passion for creativity and consistently supports artists. The fund was an early supporter of Indianapolis Museum of Contemporary Art (iMOCA) both financially and through the leadership provided by Jeremy Efroymsen to establish the museum in early 2000. To this day, iMOCA remains Indianapolis' only museum dedicated solely to showing and advancing contemporary art. iMOCA's mission aligns with the Efroymsen Family Fund's interest in supporting visual artists and providing thought-provoking and innovative arts programming for the community. Efroymsen Family Fund support to iMOCA has helped fund general operations, exhibitions by emerging and established contemporary visual arts, and arts education programming.

THE NATURE CONSERVANCY

CONSERVING & PRESERVING THE ENVIRONMENT

The Efroymsen family has a long history of supporting environmental causes and conservation work, and ensuring our land and waters are protected for future generations. Both Lori Efroymsen-Aguilera and her late husband, Dan Efroymsen, served as trustees for the Nature Conservancy in Indiana. Dan Efroymsen also served on the National Board of Governors for the Nature Conservancy and served as its chair from 1996-1998. Support to the Nature Conservancy benefits environmental conservation efforts in Indiana, across the nation and internationally. Recent leadership support from the Efroymsen Family Fund helped the Nature Conservancy build its LEED Platinum certified headquarters in downtown Indianapolis and to establish Kankakee Sands, a unique 7,800-acre highly diverse native prairie and wetland in Northwest Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS MUSEUM OF ART

INSPIRING EXPERIENCES THROUGH ART

The Efroymson family has supported a significant number of arts and cultural institutions in Indianapolis, Chicago and beyond. They strongly believe that these organizations are important assets that contribute to the vibrancy of a community. Lori Efroymson-Aguilera has served as a board member for the Indianapolis Museum of Art (IMA) and provided a number of leadership gifts to the IMA for exhibitions and capital campaign support. She also made an endowed gift to establish a Contemporary Art Fund that supports works and installations by local, national and international visual artists in the entrance pavilion. Most recent support from the Efroymson Family Fund enabled the IMA to launch ARTx, an initiative to create new, experimental, innovative and participatory art programming at the museum.

IU CANCER CENTER

SAVING LIVES THROUGH RESEARCH & SERVICES

The Efroymson family has been personally touched by cancer. Lori Efroymson-Aguilera's late husband, Dan, and their daughter, Rachel, both lost their lives to cancer far too soon. It is that personal experience that has instilled a desire to help ease the burden of cancer for other families. The Efroymson Family Fund established two endowments that fund research efforts at the IU Simon Cancer Center in honor of Dan and Rachel. It is with this support that life-saving cancer research can continue. The Efroymson Family Fund has provided support to a number of Central Indiana organizations that offer critical, basic need services to individuals with cancer. For example, the Efroymson family funded Little Red Door Cancer Agency's Rides of Hope transportation program. Since 2011, they have helped provide more than 4,800 trips for low-income clients who may otherwise be unable to complete cancer treatments due to unreliable transportation.

CHICAGO HIGH SCHOOL FOR THE ARTS

CULTIVATING THE NEXT GENERATION OF ARTISTS

The Efroymson family has supported several organizations and programs that help children and youth develop leadership skills and achieve academic success. The Chicago High School for the Arts (ChiArts) is a unique program that helps encourage the next generation of artists and leaders through intensive pre-professional training in the arts, combined with a comprehensive college preparatory curriculum. Elissa Hamid Efroymson serves on the board of trustees of ChiArts. She continues to be a champion for ensuring that underserved children and families have access to high quality academic experiences and enriching opportunities. The Efroymson Family Fund has provided a number of leadership gifts to ChiArts to help increase the visibility of this successful school model, as well as to fund supplemental academic support and programming.

THE CHILDREN'S MUSEUM OF INDIANAPOLIS

CREATING LIFE-LONG LEARNERS THROUGH EXPLORATION & DISCOVERY

The Efroymson Family Fund has a history of providing support to organizations and programs that foster learning and exploration. The Children's Museum of Indianapolis offers opportunities for children and families to connect with art, science and humanities in a creative and interactive environment through its exhibitions and programming. The Efroymson Family Fund has provided leadership capital gifts to the Children's Museum to enhance the early childhood Playscape, and to establish a permanent Power of Children exhibition to share the heroic stories of Anne Frank, Ruby Bridges and Ryan White. Recent capital support from the Efroymson family will help the museum create the Sports Legends Experience, an immersive 7.5-acre indoor and outdoor space adjacent to the museum that will encourage an active lifestyle through hands-on sports-related activities.

CENTRAL INDIANA COMMUNITY FOUNDATION

LEADING THROUGH BOLD IDEAS

The Efroymson Family Fund was established at Central Indiana Community Foundation in 1998 by Lori and Dan Efroymson, and was one of the first donor-advised funds accepted by CICF. Lori Efroymson-Aguilera also served on the board of directors of CICF. The Efroymson family has supported several of CICF's community leadership initiatives aimed at enhancing the vibrancy of Central Indiana and improving outcomes for families. The Efroymson Family Fund provided capital support to create The Indianapolis Cultural Trail: A Legacy of Gene and Marilyn Glick, as well as both operating and endowment support for the Women's Fund of Central Indiana, a special interest fund of CICF. Most recently the Efroymson Family Fund sponsored IN Light IN, a free, two-night, interactive light festival, in honor of the 100th anniversary of The Indianapolis Foundation, a CICF affiliate.

EFROYMSON CONTEMPORARY ART FELLOWSHIPS

INVESTING IN CREATIVITY

The Efroymson Contemporary Arts Fellowship program was established by the Efroymson Family Fund in 2004 to inspire creativity and provide opportunities for Midwestern emerging and established individual artists. The Fellowship currently distributes $25,000 unrestricted awards to selected Fellows through a competitive selection process. This unrestricted award supports the personal and professional development of visual artists and can be used for living expenses, equipment and supplies, studio rental, travel essential to artistic research and to develop new work. To date, the Efroymson Family Fund has distributed more than $1,000,000 to 50 contemporary visual artists from Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio and Wisconsin.
